

ENJOY!

“I often say that children’s job is to play. I really believe that and I think that we artists have the same responsibility. Hence, what I try to do in most of my work is to bring to the public unfinished artworks or books. Then, it is up to them to finish my work through reading, painting or whatever they like.”

Herve' Tullet

